at 0400 on Sunday 17 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mainly fine with some sunshine.

Today:
After a locally chilly start, early cloud and isolated showers will soon clear southeast to leave a fine day with plenty of sunshine and light winds. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Tonight:
Remaining mostly dry overnight, with a small chance of the odd shower reaching the west. Becoming chilly under developing clear spells, with a slight rural frost and fog patches possible. Minimum temperature -2 deg C (28 deg F).

Monday:
On balance a cloudier day than Sunday, although still with some sunny spells. Coastal districts may see a few showers, ahead of more general rain spreading eastwards into the evening. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
This period becoming much more unsettled. Mild but rather wet and windy up to midweek, before potentially becoming much colder Thursday with some snow and further strong winds possible.
